

Are you going to wait until you are 65 to enjoy your life??

This article is for all the procrastinators out there. You know who you are. I used to be one also. It is not too late for you to get up and start your Financial Freedom Journey, but the window is closing. This will be the most important article you read today, I guarantee it.

Are you one of the 20% of Americans that admit to being a chronic procrastinator? If you are you need to change your ways immediately if you plan on reaching a goal of Wealth Building and Financial Freedom. This is no joke and I wish I was a better writer so I could properly outline the importance of taking action. Remember the choice is yours. Will you work until 65 years old and then live on a budget? Why there are much better ways to build wealth and prepare for the future. Take the first step and STOP PROCRASTINATING.

With a large section of the work force turning 60 years old at a rate of 330 per hour, you should be working hard on your Wealth Building and Financial Freedom. Did you know the wealthy are working hard to create cash reserves as the Real Estate market is forecasted to reach bottom over the next 18 months. The wealthy are preparing now for that event and billions will be made by those who understand this concept. What are you doing to prepare for your future? Stop your procrastinating and take action to build your Financial Future.

You need to find Your Why. Find a reason to motivate yourself to take action. For most the thought of spending more time with your family and less time playing corporate games is enough motivation. While others will need to find their Why. You see no matter what you do in life you will have challenges and your Why must be big enough for you to overcome those challenges and not quit.

Just having decided to succeed and knowing why you wish to succeed is not enough. You will need to find a mentor and life coach that will teach you how to bypass the obstacles that you will encounter. Your life coach will be able to show you systems that work and work well. Make sure your life coach is internet and software savvy, if they are not...RUN AWAY. No sense in learning old methods that have been milked for all they are worth. You want cutting edge technology working for you.

Here is a great exercise to do: Make a list of the top 15 things you would like to do in your life if you made your annual income in a month (big things, like travel the world for 30 days). Prioritize them in a list from most important to least important. Now list all the time wasters that you do in a day and think about how much money these items are costing you. If you are to reach Financial Freedom then you will need to do away with these time wasters.

Now it is time to choose your Wealth Building Vehicle. This is the vehicle that will allow you to achieve your Financial Freedom. There some really good ones out and some that are not good at all. Here are some I would stay away from: Travel Packages...to much competition and taxes are seldom included and can be up to 25% of the total price, Software packages through network marketing opportunities...software is bottom self..no one will buy and if they do you will probably be flooded in refunds, any opportunity that says "the system does all the work"...there is no way...RUN AWAY. To be successful you will need you need to find a mentor that is using the newest technology to make money. It makes no sense to use old methods like everyone else.

Remember that your Mentor will be the single most important factor in your success. There must be a system in place that is constantly evolving and teaching you on how to become your Financial Freedom. Once you reach this zone, you will look back and wonder why you did not do this before.

Take action now and build your families future.
